

Conversations on South Asia with Shenila Khoja-Moolji

Announcement published by Sri Sathvik Rayala on Thursday, May 5, 2022

Type:

Event

Subject Fields:

Sexuality Studies, Sociology, South Asian History / Studies, Women's & Gender History / Studies, Religious Studies and Theology

How do politics and emotion intersect? How might our understandings of sovereignty change if we account for feelings and emotions? How is gender mobilized in assertions of sovereignty?

Making the Pakistani state and Pakistan-based Taliban her objects of study, Shenila Khoja-Moolji (Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies, Bowdoin College) contemplates these questions by paying particular attention to state and non-state cultural productions that shape national publics.

Join us to hear more!

Zahra Ayubi (Religion, Dartmouth College) and Marya Hannun (Center for Contemporary Arab Studies, Georgetown University) will be joining the author for this conversation. The event will take place on Tuesday, May 10 from 12:15-1:15 pm (ET) over Zoom.

Elizabeth Lhost (Dartmouth College) will moderate.

Register online to attend: <https://dartgo.org/conversations-khoja-moolji>

All are welcome to attend.

This event is sponsored by the Bodas Family Academic Programming Fund, the Asian Societies, Cultures, and Languages Program, and the Department of History at Dartmouth College.

Contact Email:

conversationsonsouthasia@gmail.com

URL:

<https://sites.dartmouth.edu/southasiastudies/2022/04/29/conversations-on-south-asia-with-shenila-khoja-moolji/>