

CFP: Australasian Society for Continental Philosophy Annual Conference

Announcement published by Joe Hughes on Wednesday, July 20, 2022

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

August 15, 2022

Location:

Australia

Subject Fields:

Philosophy, Literature, Intellectual History, Humanities, European History / Studies

CFP: Australasian Society for Continental Philosophy Annual Conference

The ASCP provides a broad intellectual forum for scholars working within or in communication with continental philosophy and European philosophical traditions. We welcome papers from philosophers, non-philosophers and anti-philosophers working in any discipline, from diverse backgrounds at any stage of their career.

Details about the 2022 annual conference:

University of Melbourne

28 – 30 November

Keynote Speakers:

- Claire Colebrook (Penn State)
- Guilia Sissa (UCLA), co-sponsored by the Australian Women's and Gender Studies Association
- Jessica Whyte (UNSW)

Deadline for submissions: 15 August.

For more details as well as submission guidelines, please go to www.ascp.org.au/conference

The 2022 ASCP conference this year will be part of the Congress of the Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences. www.chass.org.au/congress

Conference Queries: 2022ascp@gmail.com

You can find us on

Web: <http://www.ascp.org.au/>

Facebook: <https://bit.ly/ascpfbgroup>

Twitter: <https://bit.ly/ascptweets>

Contact Info:

Joe Hughes

Contact Email:

2022ascp@gmail.com

URL:

<https://ascp.org.au/conference>