

Call for Applications: Toward Equity in Publishing

Announcement published by Sara Morris on Monday, August 1, 2022

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

September 15, 2022

Location:

United States

Subject Fields:

Art, Art History & Visual Studies, American History / Studies

Call for Applications: Toward Equity in Publishing

Deadline: September 15, 2022

Toward Equity in Publishing is a professional development program provided by the peer-reviewed journal American Art, which is co-published by the Smithsonian American Art Museum and University of Chicago Press. The program, supported by the Dedalus Foundation, will work toward ameliorating the inequitable conditions that precede and impede publication by providing developmental editing and workshops to demystify academic publishing. Eligibility is limited to, untenured faculty, junior museum staff, independent scholars, and unpublished graduate students.

For more information and application instructions, please visit americanart.si.edu/research/toward-equity-publishing.

Seeking Advisors

American Art seeks senior scholars for the Toward Equity in Publishing advisory committee. Please send letter of interest and CV to AmericanArtJournal@si.edu.

AmericanArt.si.edu | American Art current issue | Submit an article | SAAM Fellowships

Contact Email:

AmericanArtJournal@si.edu

URL:

<http://americanart.si.edu/research/toward-equity-publishing>