

Call for submissions--the Society for the Anthropology of Europe \(SAE\) recruits volunteers for its digital media team

Discussion published by Emanuela Grama on Wednesday, August 24, 2022

The Society for the Anthropology of Europe (SAE) is recruiting volunteers for the editorial team that manages its digital presence. The team moderates the H-SAE listserv (an H-Net group) and updates the SAE website (a WordPress platform). They also work with the Publications and Publicity Chair, the Membership Chair, and the Graduate Student Representative, to promote and increase SAE's online impact. The team also attends annual board and business meetings, so it is an ideal way to get involved with the members and activities of SAE, and have a major impact, without a heavy commitment. The time required averages only about 5 hours a month (ideally for two years). Please send an expression of interest, brief bio, and CV to SAE President Gerald Creed (gcreed@gc.CUNY.edu).