

New Call for Reviewers - H-Energy

Discussion published by Tammy Nemeth on Wednesday, January 27, 2016

Dear Subscribers,

There will be a number of book reviews published to the list over the next six months, but there are still several books that require reviewers.

We would like to expand our list of available reviewers who will be willing to review books or articles in energy history broadly defined (oil, natural gas, coal, hydro, utilities, solar, wind energy, geothermal, environment and energy, land use, diplomacy, policy, international relations, etc - any subject or geographical location dealing with some aspect of energy history).

If you are interested, please send me an e-mail: nemeth@mail.h-net.msu.edu. Include in your message the subject area(s) you believe you are competent or qualified to review and a brief vita including such information as recent publications, affiliation, mailing address, etc.

We are always attentive to the interests of our subscribers; if you have any suggestions of books or articles or roundtable ideas, please send us a message.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Tammy Nemeth
