

Queer kinship in literature

Discussion published by Anchit Sathi on Monday, October 3, 2022

Dear colleagues,

For anyone working on queer kinship in literature (any language / period), I would like to draw your attention to my seminar at the American Comparative Literature Association's (ACLA's) 2023 conference: <https://www.acla.org/queer-kinship-world-literature>. Anyone interested in presenting a paper at this seminar is requested to formally apply through the ACLA's website between October 1 and October 31.

Note that, as per ACLA's guidelines, 'each seminar must include both faculty and graduate students'. Accordingly, this seminar welcomes scholars from all career stages, be they experienced members of faculty, early career researchers, independent scholars or PhD students.

Please feel free to get in touch with me if you have questions. I'd also be grateful if you could forward this email to anyone in your network whose research interests might align with the topic of the seminar.

With thanks and best regards,

Anchit

P.S. I am cross-posting this message on a few different forums. My apologies in advance if you end up receiving the message more than once, therefore.
