

JOB> NO search in S/SE Asian Buddhism this year at Yale

Discussion published by Eric Greene on Tuesday, October 4, 2022

Dear Colleagues,

It has come to my attention that Interfolio has been wrongly sending out requests for letters of recommendation, with a deadline dated to Oct of 2022, supposedly pertaining to a search in the area of South or South-East Asian Buddhism at Yale this year.

Since I have already fielded several concerned questions about this privately, I thought should announce to the broader field that these notices have been sent in error. They stem from last year's search in this field, and were seemingly sent to many (if not everyone) who may have written letters connected with last year's search. There is no search in this area at Yale this year.

Eric Greene

Department of Religious Studies

Director of Graduate Studies, East Asian Studies

PO Box 208287 | New Haven, CT 06520-8287