

Call for submissions: Tips for Teaching

Discussion published by Kathleen Daly on Wednesday, October 5, 2022

Want to share a quick tip or need some advice from your colleagues? Then join Tips for Teaching! H-Teach is seeking contributions in all areas of humanities and social science teaching at the secondary and university levels. Submissions from graduate students, new faculty, and experienced practitioners welcomed. Topics might include inclusive syllabus language, alternative assessment practices, discussion strategies, classroom management, or faculty well-being.

Submissions should be approximately 250 - 500 words. They will be published on H-Teach and distributed to our community. Please submit ideas to editorial-teach@mail.h-net.org.