ABOUT THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY

The United States Naval Academy is a unique institution of higher learning located in desirable Annapolis, Maryland. As an historic officer accession program and premier undergraduate college, the United States Naval Academy has its own distinctive niche amongst American educational institutions. Our talented faculty and staff are united by one common purpose--to develop the next generation of leaders for naval service. In order to deliver on this promise to our nation, we recruit from all segments of society to find faculty, instructors, and support staff who model the highest professional standards.

POSITION DESCRIPTIONS:

The History Department invites applications for three tenure-track positions:

1. A specialist in the history of race and ethnicity in the United States. Candidates who focus on the twentieth-century, especially civil rights issues, are preferred. The successful applicant will be hired as an Assistant Professor (or a non-tenured Associate Professor as appropriate) and expected to teach a survey course in modern world history or American naval history as part of the institution's core curriculum. They will also offer upper level courses in areas of specialization, as well as majors-only seminars.
