

MANIFEST - New artistic perspectives to re-imagine Europe's collective memory of the transatlantic trade of enslaved people

Discussion published by Aurora Almada e Santos on Saturday, October 22, 2022

MANIFEST is looking for artists who are motivated to contribute with new artistic perspectives to re-imagine Europe's collective memory of the transatlantic trade of enslaved people.

MANIFEST is an artistic and educational initiative that will support the creation of 12 artworks. The artworks should seek to enhance the re-imagination of Europe's collective memory of the transatlantic trade of enslaved people. The artworks will be developed through an Artistic Journey with the help and facilitation of artistic supervisors, academic researchers, and production partners.

Along the Artistic Journey, artists will work in residencies and be encouraged to work with new technologies. The final artworks will be produced in digital formats in either Virtual Reality (VR), Augmented Reality (AR), video or audio - sound formats, and spoken art.

Artists and creators who are legal residents in the countries within the Creative Europe framework can apply starting from October 26, 2022, till November 27, 2022.
