

Fully-funded PhD scholarships in history, literature, and the environmental humanities at the Australian Catholic University.

Discussion published by Kristie Flannery on Monday, October 24, 2022

The Institute for Humanities and Social Sciences (IHSS) at the Australian Catholic University is offering full-time, 3-year PhD scholarships for doctoral students to undertake research as members of the interdisciplinary team of scholars working on the Mobilising Dutch East India Company Collections for new Global Stories Australian Research Council Linkage Project. These PhD scholarships are offered in History, Literature, and Environmental Humanities. Students will benefit from working in the IHSS - a new and vibrant research centre - and the interdisciplinary Linkage Project team that offers opportunities to connect and collaborate with scholars and curators across multiple Australian and international universities and museums. For more information, including application instructions, see <https://www.acu.edu.au/research-and-enterprise/higher-degree-research-hub/scholarships/mobilising-dutch-east-india-company>

Applications close Sunday 27 November 2022.