Event Description

The Global Taiwan Institute is very pleased to host the 2022 Taiwanese Film Week, GTI's third annual virtual film festival. From October 21-29, GTI will feature a diverse selection of eight Taiwanese films and documentaries, as well as Q&A sessions with the directors of two selected films. All will be streamed for free on Vimeo.

All screenings and Q&A sessions will be free of charge. Each film screening will require registration in advance in order to acquire a URL link containing a promotion code. Please make sure to submit your registration in advance through the event page on our website or via the links below as some movies will have limited capacity. Only those currently located in the United States will be able to watch the films. There are no geographic restrictions for the Q&A sessions with film directors.

The film festival will be accessible via Vimeo On Demand, a video sharing and streaming platform, starting on Friday, October 21, 2022. Each day, one film will be accessible for 24 hours (please see the schedule below). Participants will need to create a Vimeo On Demand account and register in order to access and watch individual films. For any questions pertaining to online registration, please first refer to the instructions and FAQs below. If you have any further questions, please contact us at gtifilm@globaltaiwan.org.
