

Templo Mayor news late November 2022

Discussion published by John Schwaller on Friday, November 25, 2022

Reuters has published an article on recent excavations at the Templo Mayor, digging deeper into the cache previously reported containing sea creatures and a jaguar. Leonardo López Luján, Director of the Templo Mayor project, has proposed that they might have found the burial of Ahuitzotl. López Luján previously conjectured that Ahuitzotl was buried under the Tlalteuctli stone discovered a few years ago.
