

2016 LACS Dissertation prize - correction

Announcement published by William Van Norman on Monday, April 4, 2016

Type:

Prize

Date:

May 15, 2016

Subject Fields:

Borderlands, Latin American and Caribbean History / Studies, Atlantic History / Studies

LACS Dissertation Prize

Latin American and Caribbean Section of the Southern Historical Association (LACS-SHA)

The 2016 LACS Dissertation Prize will be awarded to the best dissertation completed and defended in 2015 (corrected) in the fields of Latin American, Caribbean, American Borderlands and Frontiers, or Atlantic World history. Dissertations defended at any institution in the US South and adjacent states (i.e. any state in which the SHA has held a meeting) will be considered. Authors must be or become LACS members at the time of submission.

Submit two files to each of the committee members below: a title and one-page abstract and an electronic version of the dissertation.

Deadline: May 15, 2016

Chad Black, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Chair

cblack6@utk.edu

Joshua Nadel, North Carolina Central University

jnadel@nccu.edu

James A. Wood, North Carolina A & T University

woodj@ncat.edu

Tamara Spike, University of North Georgia (ex officio)

tamara.spike@ung.edu

Contact Info:

William Van Norman

Contact Email:

vannorwc@jmu.edu