

SHEAR 2023 - "Fractures in White Identity and Power" - Panelist Wanted

Discussion published by Charlotte Hand on Monday, November 28, 2022

Hi,

We're two PhD candidates (reading History and Literature respectively) looking to put together a panel on the fragmentation of white identity and power, preferably in the antebellum period. We're looking for papers that challenge conceptions of a universal "white" identity and power, including but not limited to race and gender politics. If you're interested in participating in this panel, please email charlotte.hand@sjc.ox.ac.uk
