

Virtual Allen Morris Forum on the Native South - December 2022

Discussion published by F. Evan Nooe on Friday, December 2, 2022

The Allen Morris Forum on the Native South invites interested parties to join a collegial exhibition of new research on Native Americans in the American South virtually via Zoom. The December 2022 session welcomes the work of Dr. Dixie Ray Haggard from Valdosta State University.

Dr. Haggard will be discussing his work titled “The Illogic of Jim Crow and the Pascagoula River Tribe in Southeast Mississippi.” Opening comments will be provided by Dr. Denise Bates (Arizona State University).

The event is free but requires an RSVP to access the Zoom room and receive the pre-circulated paper.

Date/Time: December 8, 2022 at 4:00PM EST (US and Canada).

Sponsored by Florida State University Department of History.

Please RSVP to Dr. Andrew K. Frank at afrank@fsu.edu for Zoom information and a copy of the pre-circulated paper.

For additional information, see The Allen Morris Forum on the Native South | Department of History \(fsu.edu\).