The Margaret B. Ševčenko Prize in Islamic Art and Culture
Deadline: December 15, 2022

Every year the Historians of Islamic Art Association (HIAA) sponsors a competition and awards the Margaret B. Ševčenko Prize for the best unpublished essay written by a junior scholar (pre-dissertation graduate student to three years after the Ph.D. degree) on any aspect of Islamic visual culture. This competition is open to HIAA members only. The Ševčenko Prize recipient receives an award of $500 and a citation, generally presented at HIAA's annual business meeting. The Prize is named in memory of Margaret Bentley Ševčenko, the first and long-serving Managing Editor of Muqarnas, a journal devoted to the visual culture of the Islamic world and sponsored by the Aga Khan Program for Islamic Architecture at Harvard and at MIT. The winning essay will be considered for publication by the Muqarnas Editorial Board.

Submissions must include the paper in both Word and PDF format, and a separate sheet with the author's contact information (address, telephone number, and email address). Papers should not exceed 10,000 words in length (including footnotes) and can be accompanied by up to 15 low-res illustrations.

Please note that submissions cannot be in press or under review with any publisher

A letter of recommendation for the paper should be sent separately by the author's adviser or referee to the Ševčenko committee chair (sevcenko.hiaa@gmail.com).

All materials should be submitted by email to the Ševčenko committee chair (sevcenko.hiaa@gmail.com) by December 15, 2022. Files exceeding 5 Mb should be transferred by FTP.

Grabar Post-doctoral Fellowship
Deadline: December 15, 2022

The Grabar Post-doctoral Fellowship is intended to support post-doctoral scholars at an early stage of their careers in advancing their research. Fellowship funds may be used in one of two ways:

* To spend up to two months in residence as a visiting professor or fellow/research scholar at a university, museum, research institute or similar institution outside their usual country of residence or employment.

OR

* To support additional research to aid in preparing the dissertation for publication.

Applicants should have completed their PhD within the last five years or have submitted their dissertations by the start of the fellowship.

The Grabar Post-doctoral Fellowship will provide up to $2000 US per month, for a maximum of two months. An additional $1000 may be requested for travel or for supplies.

All materials should be submitted by email to the chair of the Grabar post-doctoral fellowship committee chair (grabar.hiaa@gmail.com) by December 15, 2022. Files exceeding 5 Mb should be transferred by FTP.
