TOC: The Civil War Monitor (Winter 2022)

Discussion published by Terry Johnston on Thursday, December 15, 2022

FEATURES

Mayhem at the Mule Shoe
How a battle-tested brigade of South Carolinians helped stave off disaster for the Army of Northern Virginia at Spotsylvania
By Jeffry D. Wert

No Stranger to Violence
Ardent abolitionist James Montgomery earned admirers and courted controversy as he blazed an uncompromising path through the Civil War.
By Colin Edward Woodward

Gettysburg, Readdressed
Since 1863, when Abraham Lincoln delivered his iconic speech at Gettysburg, seven presidents and one vice president have traveled to the historic town to speak about the legacy of the Civil War.
By Cecily N. Zander

DEPARTMENTS

Editorial: Mule Shoe Melee

Salvo: Facts, Figures & Items of Interest

Voices: Army Stragglers
Preservation: Your Voice Makes a Difference
Faces of War: Trick Photography
Figures: In the Line of Duty
Cost of War: A General's Archive Earns Well
In Focus: The Bridge at Berlin

Columns:

Fighting Words: "Skylark," by Ben Roy

Crossroads: Nathan Bedford Forrest at Franklin, by Andrew S. Bledsoe

Books & Authors:

The Best Civil War Books of 2022
Parting Shot: Lincoln's Laboratory