

CfP - Decolonized Narratives in Political Economy: Alternative Perspectives from the Global South

Announcement published by Altug Yalcintas on Wednesday, December 21, 2022

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

January 2, 2023

Location:

Germany

Subject Fields:

Colonial and Post-Colonial History / Studies, Economic History / Studies, Intellectual History

Dear colleagues,

At the Hamburg Institute for Advanced Study, Germany, we organise a two-day workshop on decolonized political economy on March 28-29, 2023. We invite researchers (primarily) from the Global South to present alternative narratives on markets, governments, and social classes. During the workshop, we intend to move beyond the monist narratives in economics and have a pluralist conversation (historical and contemporary) on the ignored scholarships that have theoretical and practical significance today.

Funding is available. Please see the call for paper below. (Deadline for sending abstracts: January 2, 2023.)

https://docs.google.com/document/d/17tYX8mToG4TdgDyCBRmpsq_9bQHVa9_I7dSnMym_umU/edit?usp=sharing

Best wishes,

Altug Yalcintas, Hamburg Institute for Advanced Study and Ankara University

Arne Heise, University of Hamburg

Contact Email:

altug.yalcintas@hias-hamburg.de