Cartographica invites submissions for upcoming issues.

Cartographica is an international and interdisciplinary peer-reviewed journal that publishes transformative research, education, and practice contributions to the social, political, technological, and historical aspects of cartography.

An official publication of the Canadian Cartographic Association, Cartographica provides a forum for the exchange of original perspectives and innovative findings in the production, design, use, cognitive understanding, and novel applications of maps in arts, cartography, computer science, economy, engineering, geography, history, medicine, health, and surveying. The current Editor-in-Chief is Heather McGrath from Natural Resources Canada.

The editorial team welcomes submissions of articles describing original research contributions in all aspects of cartography. The papers will be peer reviewed.

Submissions are accepted on an ongoing basis.
