We are holding a hybrid conference at McMaster University (January 26-28, 2023) on “Child Protection and the Rights of the Child.” It brings together an international and interdisciplinary group of senior academics, emerging scholars, and students to explore patterns and changes in discourses, policies, and practices in child saving, child protection, and the rights of the child. The conference will include six academic sessions, one curriculum workshop, and several public events. The conference website includes registration information, the preliminary programme, and other details about the conference. <https://www.childrights2023.com/> But please feel free to email us if you have any questions. childrights2023@gmail.com
