

Virtual Allen Morris Forum on the Native South - February 2023

Discussion published by F. Evan Nooe on Tuesday, February 7, 2023

The Allen Morris Forum on the Native South invites interested parties to join a collegial exhibition of new research on Native Americans in the American South via Zoom. The February 2023 session welcomes the work of Dr. Jason Herbert.

Dr. Herbert will be discussing his work titled “Bovine Borderlands: Creating New Indigenous Spaces in 18th Century Florida.” Opening comments will be provided by Dr. Christina Snyder (Pennsylvania State University).

The event is free but requires an RSVP to access the Zoom and receive the pre-circulated paper.

Date/Time: February 22, 2023 at 4:00PM EST (US and Canada).

Sponsored by Florida State University Department of History.

Please RSVP to Dr. Andrew K. Frank at afrank@fsu.edu for Zoom information and a copy of the pre-circulated paper.

For additional information, see The Allen Morris Forum on the Native South | Department of History \(fsu.edu\).