The fourth volume of YILLIK: Annual of Istanbul Studies, Istanbul Research Institute's peer-reviewed and open access journal, is online and can be ordered in print.

Peer-reviewed articles of YILLIK: Annual of Istanbul Studies 4 (2022) include works on different issues in Istanbul's history: the phenomenon of the Phanariot houses, projections of xenophobia in the early republican period, and Beyoğlu's religious soundscape. Among the peer-reviewed articles, Orçun Can Okan's "Projections of Xenophobia: The Capitulations, Employment, and Anglo-Turkish Relations in the 1920s" is the recipient of our Early Career Article Prize.

The Cabinet section, devoted every year to a close analysis of a document from the Suna and İnan Kıraç Foundation collections, analyzes a reader's letter sent to author Fikret Adil by the president of the Turkish Society for the Protection of Animals, Nazım Kibrızlı. Meclis features a special dossier on the Allied occupation of Istanbul, co-edited by Daniel-Joseph MacArthur-Seal and Gizem Tongo. This dossier, with contributions by the exhibition's consultants, accompanies the exhibition Occupied City: Politics and Daily Life in Istanbul, 1918-1923 (Meşgul Şehir: İşgal İstanbul'unda Siyaset ve Gündelik Hayat, 1918-1923), opened at the Istanbul Research Institute on January 11, 2023, curated by MacArthur-Seal and Tongo. YILLIK's 2022 issue concludes with book and exhibition reviews, and the most recent edition of the Istanbul Bibliography.
