

Britain Votes to Leave the EU: Discourse on Brexit around the H-Net Commons

Page published by Jesse Draper - Associate Director, Networks on Friday, June 24, 2016

Britain's surprising vote to leave the European Union continues to have a significant political and economic impact all over the world.

Debate over the repercussions of Britain's vote is sure to generate a tremendous amount of discourse, and as members of an international scholarly organization with subscribers worldwide, H-Net's Networks have already begun to add to the discussion.

Follow this link to see a list of all Brexit related content across the H-Net Commons. And if you are adding your own voice to the Brexit discussion at one of your networks, be sure your editors include the Category Brexit to your post so that your contribution is added to the global list linked on the homepage of the H-Net Commons.

For technical assistance along these lines, please contact the Help Desk and we would be happy to provide assistance.