

CFP: Southeast Louisiana Review

Discussion published by Keith Finley on Saturday, February 10, 2018

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

December 8, 2018

Location:

Louisiana, United States

Subject Fields:

African American History / Studies, American History / Studies, Area Studies, Local History

The Southeast Louisiana Review, a professionally vetted journal produced by the Center for Southeast Louisiana Studies at Southeastern Louisiana University, seeks articles for consideration of publication in forthcoming editions. Proposed articles should highlight or advance understanding of persons, issues, or events relevant to the historical/cultural development of regions in or immediately adjoining the lower Mississippi River valley including the Florida Parishes, River Parishes of the West Bank, New Orleans, and immediate surrounding regions of southwestern Mississippi. Articles should be submitted electronically to editors Samuel Hyde shyde@selu.edu or Keith Finley keith.finley@selu.edu. For additional information contact the Center at selahistory@selu.edu.

Contact Info:

Samuel C. Hyde, Jr: shyde@selu.edu

Keith M. Finley: keith.finley@selu.edu

Contact Email:

keith.finley@selu.edu

URL:

http://www.southeastern.edu/acad_research/programs/csls/index.html