

NeMLA 2017 Baltimore Convention Call for Submissions

Announcement published by Claire Sommers on Friday, September 16, 2016

Type:

Conference

Date:

September 30, 2016

Location:

Maryland, United States

Subject Fields:

Area Studies, Composition & Rhetoric, Languages, Literature, Humanities

The 48th Annual NeMLA (Northeast Modern Language Association) convention will take place in Baltimore March 23-26, 2017. We welcome papers focused on a wide range of topics, including literature, language, pedagogy, professionalization, and critical theory. Subject areas include:

- American Literature
- Anglophone Literature
- British Literature
- Canadian Literature
- Comparative Literature
- Creative Writing, Editing, and Publishing
- Culture and Media Studies
- French and Francophone Language and Literature
- Germany Language and Literature
- Italian Language and Literature
- Pedagogy and Professional Topics
- Rhetoric and Composition
- Russian Language and Literature
- Spanish and Portuguese Language and Literature
- Women's and Gender Studies
- World (Non-European) Languages and Literatures

To view the complete list of NeMLA panels and to submit a proposal, please visit: <https://www.cfplist.com/nemla/Home/cfp> . For additional information, please contact support@nemla.org. Abstracts are due by 09/30/2016

Contact Email:

csommers@gc.cuny.edu