

Call for 2018 PhD applicants, School of International Studies, University of Technology Sydney \(UTS\)

Announcement published by Ilaria Vanni on Monday, August 21, 2017

Type:

Grant

Date:

August 11, 2017

Location:

Australia

Subject Fields:

Area Studies, Cultural History / Studies, European History / Studies, Geography, Linguistics

In the School of International Studies you'll become part of the vibrant Faculty research community, work in state-of-the-art facilities, and be supervised and supported by leading scholars in your field. Choose a project from vast range of academic disciplines. Below is a taste of the areas we work in, check out the website for more: <https://www.uts.edu.au/future-students/international-studies/study-areas/postgraduate-research-degrees>

- China studies, especially urban development, governmentality.
- Race, ethnicity, migration and multiculturalism in Sydney and other Asian cities.
- Bodies, health and cultures of consumption in Francophone Canada.
- Latinization of the USA, trans-American studies.
- Governance of marine resources in the Asia Pacific region.
- Urban activism, material and visual cultures in Italy.
- Transnational histories, especially German and Australian.
- Indonesia's linguistic landscapes.
- Metrolingual language practices.
- Intercultural teacher narratives, intercultural learning of students on study abroad.

A number of scholarships are available, for both tuition and living stipends. The cost of your UTS degree depends on the course you choose and whether you're a domestic or international student.

Contact Info:

Margaret McGrath, Research Degrees Administrator

Kate Barclay, Research Degrees Coordinator

Contact Email:

Margaret.McGrath@uts.edu.au

URL:

<https://www.uts.edu.au/future-students/international-studies/study-areas/postgraduate-research-degrees>