Welcome to HABSBURG, H-Net's network on the Habsburg Monarchy and its successor states

This welcome message is designed to provide you with basic information about this network. It has six parts:

I. HABSBURG's Scope and Purpose; Benefits of Membership

II. The Editors

III. The Advisory Board

IV. Communicating Through the List: Copyright, Etiquette, Format

V. The HABSBURG Site on the World Wide Web

VI. Our Parent Organization: H-Net

I. The HABSBURG Network: Scope, Content, Purpose

HABSBURG is devoted to the history and culture of the former Habsburg lands and their peoples from 1500 to the present. Founded in October 1991, it was the first Internet discussion group dedicated to an historical theme.

HABSBURG is a member of H-Net, an independent, international consortium of scholars with primary computer hosts at Michigan State University. We are affiliated with the Center for Austrian Studies, the Society for Austrian and Habsburg History, the Czechoslovak History Conference, and the American Association for the Study of Hungarian History.

A. FUNCTIONS of HABSBURG:

1. Establish an instantaneous, trans-oceanic link between historians in the field. The current membership numbers over 1,000, drawn from two dozen countries on four continents.
2. Commission, post, and archive book reviews and other contributions to scholarship by our members
3. Promote the discussion and debate of provocative historical issues, including those raised by recent historical publications or current events
4. Allow individuals to make announcements of a professional nature
5. Share ideas about teaching the history of our region

HABSBURG is not designed to compete with related public affairs or groups or with print journals, but only to complement them by providing a scholarly, historical forum for rapid interaction. Nor is it designed to assist students in preparing undergraduate-level writing assignments, such as term papers or book reports.

II. The Editors

Habsburg is edited by field experts approved by the network board and certified by H-Net's Executive Council. The editors serve two-year renewable terms and rotate their duties. Editors are listed in the Network Staff List linked from the network's front page. The editors will solicit postings through the Commons, will approve new subscriptions, will handle routine inquiries, and manage submissions.

Anyone with suggestions about what Habsburg can and might do is invited to send in ideas by writing to the editorial address. The editors will solicit and post newsletter-type information (calls for conferences, for example, or listings of sessions at conventions.)

Like all H-Net networks, Habsburg is moderated to edit out material that, in the editors' opinion, is not germane to the network mission, involves technical matters (such as subscription management requests), is inflammatory, or violates evolving, yet common, standards of Internet etiquette. Please read section IV below for details about ownership, style, formatting, and content of your messages. H-Net's procedure for resolving disputes over editorial practices is Article II, Section 2.02 of our council policies, located at:

<http://www.h-net.org/about/policies.php>

For a list of current editors, follow this link.

III. The Advisory Board

HABSBURG's daily activities are managed by the editors. Its long-term policies are developed by the advisory board. If you are interested in serving on the board, please contact the current editor. Board members referee incoming articles, reviews, and teaching materials; establish basic subscription restrictions and policy; advise the editors on disputes among editors and subscribers; monitor the network and make active contributions to discussion; and serve as the subscribers' voice in H-Net affairs. You are encouraged to contact any or all of the advisory board members with ideas and concerns about Habsburg.

IV. Communicating Through the Network

A. Copyright notice.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY. H-Net considers all messages posted to its forums to be a form of publication. Unless otherwise arranged with H-Net, all contributions to Habsburg are subject to H-Net's Terms of Use and its policies concerning copyright and intellectual property, Art. III, Sec. 3.01-3.08 of the H-Net Council Policies. Use of this site constitutes acceptance of H-Net's terms of use. B. Contributions:

The tone and content of Habsburg depends directly on subscribers. The editors want to encourage lively, informal, productive discussion and exchange of information. To that end, we ask that contributions be considerate of the needs of a busy audience of scholars, many of whom must pay for their access to the internet. A number of excellent guides to online behavior and style are available on the internet and we invite you consult them.

- ALL CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE NETWORK MUST BE SIGNED. If your profile on the H-Net Commons is not filled out with a valid name and affiliation the editors will delay posting until authorship and email address are confirmed.
- CONTENT: Editors retain the right to review material for its pertinence, tone, style, and relevance to the network's mission. Ad hominem, unattributed quotations or innuendo, private messages forwarded for posting without permission, or messages that violate the norms of civility and professional courtesy will be rejected. Persistent violators can be removed as subscribers to the network. H-Net permanently archives its content on the H-Net Commons. Do not submit material that you consider to be of a private nature or that you would not want available to future readers.
- STYLE: the default editorial style for discussion postings is that of a letter to the editor. Your remarks can be crafted to suit the tone of an existing discussion thread, but in any case they should address the editor and not make direct personal references to others, except where you are replying directly to a simple query (e.g., "you can find this information in Webster's Third International Dictionary."). Avoid excessive quotation of messages you refer or reply to.
- FORMAT: While you can submit your posts to the Commons using various fonts, styles and formatting these may be edited by the editor for uniformity and readability.
