

Paulsen Fellowships for early and mid-career historians in Russia

Announcement published by Liza Ryan on Tuesday, July 10, 2018

Type:

Fellowship

Date:

July 31, 2018

Location:

Russian Federation

Subject Fields:

World History / Studies, Russian or Soviet History / Studies, European History / Studies, Diplomacy and International Relations, Eastern Europe History / Studies

The Paulsen Programme hosted by the International History Dept at LSE will provide up to 15 fellowships for early and mid-career historians in Russian academic and educational institutions each year from 2018/19 to 2022/23 to Russian historians whose research requires them to work in foreign archives and libraries. The 1-3 month fellowships are open to all historians in Russia who are working on the period from the mid seventeenth century down to 1918, including historians of Russia and of other regions of the world. Applications are invited for fellowships for the academic year starting on 1 October 2018 and ending on 30 September 2019. The deadline for applications is 31st July 2018.

Contact Info:

Liza Ryan, Paulsen Programme, Dept of International History, LSE

Contact Email:

IH.Paulsen@lse.ac.uk

URL:

<http://www.lse.ac.uk/International-History/Research/Paulsen-Programme/paulsen-fellowships>