H-Sport Teaching Initiative

Page published by Tanya Lovejoy on Sunday, May 25, 2014

The H-Sport Teaching Initiative provides additional teaching materials for instructors and researchers in the sport-teaching field. The goal is to offer a place where instructors and researchers can share information regarding syllabi, course assignments, and reading lists, as well other educational materials related to the sport-teaching field. Presently, we are looking for syllabi and assignments that focus on media, literature, philosophy, law, policy, management, sociology, and history of sport. Because we are an interdisciplinary list other categories in the sport-teaching field are also welcome.

Please send submissions as .docx, .doc, or .pdf. In the subject line, include your LAST NAME, TEACHING INITIATIVE, and the SPECIFIC CATEGORY YOU WOULD LIKE YOUR SYLLABUS AND/OR ASSIGNMENT TO BE LISTED UNDER (this will help us divide the materials into the specific categories). For example, Jones_Teaching Initiative_Media. In addition, please include information, such as course name, the level of the course (undergraduate or graduate), and school name.

Please send all submissions to editorial-sport@mail.h-net.msu.edu with the subject Teaching Initiative.
