

Contributions of LGBTQ and Persons with Disabilities in 18th, 19th and early 20th Centuries America

Discussion published by Joe Dobis on Monday, July 22, 2019

Hello all,

New Jersey just passed a law that will require the teaching of the various contributions of Homosexuals and Persons with Disabilities in the United States as part of the history curriculum. I have to be honest, I am hoping some of my colleagues here at H-Net would know of valuable resources that house and/or archive such individuals. Any information you have would be appreciated.

Thank you all,

Joseph Dobis
Franklin High School, Somerset, NJ.
United States History Teacher
BA in History from Georgian Court University '09
MA in History from Monmouth University '12