

CfP - Oratory and Representation: Parliamentary discourses and practices in the 19th century

Announcement published by Ludovic Marionneau on Monday, April 1, 2019

Type:

Workshop

Date:

June 30, 2019

Location:

Finland

Subject Fields:

Cultural History / Studies, European History / Studies, Modern European History / Studies, Political History / Studies, Research and Methodology

The CALLIOPE project is organizing the international workshop "Oratory and Representation: Parliamentary discourses and practices in the 19th century" at the University of Helsinki on March 6, 2020. The call for papers is open until June 30, 2019.

This workshop aims to examine the rhetorical, behavioral and vocal discourses and practices in Parliaments or other political assemblies during the nineteenth century, from both national and transnational perspectives.

In order to address these topics and encourage trans- and international comparisons and exchange, we would welcome contributions from a variety of parliamentary and (geo)political perspectives. Junior as well as more experienced researchers are warmly invited to participate.

You can find a more detailed version of this CfP as well as a link to post your application of the following website:

<https://www.helsinki.fi/en/news/language-culture/call-for-papers-oratory-and-representation>

For more information regarding this ERC funded project you can visit the webpage of the project:

<https://www.helsinki.fi/en/researchgroups/vocal-articulations-of-parliam...>

Contact Email:

ludovic.marionneau@helsinki.fi