

CfP - Workshop "The Greek Experience Under Ottoman Rule" Athens, September 3, 2019

Announcement published by Berke Torunoglu on Friday, April 5, 2019

Type:

Workshop

Location:

Greece

Subject Fields:

Area Studies, Early Modern History and Period Studies, European History / Studies, Immigration & Migration History / Studies, Middle East History / Studies

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Seeger Center for Hellenic Studies

Athens Center for Research and Hellenic Studies

Workshop

"The Greek Experience Under Ottoman Rule"

Athens, September 3, 2019

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Sponsored by the Princeton University Seeger Center for Hellenic Studies, this workshop on "The Greek Experience Under Ottoman Rule" follows on the success of the three earlier workshops (Santorini, 2007; Mytilene, 2010; Athens, 2013). Hosted at the Princeton Athens Center, the 2019 workshop is designed to bring together those who are working on the Greeks in Ottoman history and culture. Applicants must be current doctoral students or recent Ph.D. recipients who do not have a current regular academic appointment and whose degree was completed in 2017 or later. Workshops have drawn participants from Greece and Turkey, as well as other European countries and the United States.

Considering the focus on the experience of the Greeks under Ottoman rule, prospective participants are encouraged to consider additional, comparative or interdisciplinary frameworks for their papers, beyond the Ottoman context. In accordance with recent trends in history writing, such as transnational and international history, applicants might want to think about the scale of their work. Are they telling a local, a regional, or even a transnational or international story? And what are the connections among and across these levels?

Citation: Berke Torunoglu. CfP - Workshop "The Greek Experience Under Ottoman Rule" Athens, September 3, 2019. H-Announce. 05-27-2022.

<https://networks.h-net.org/node/73374/announcements/3968028/cfp-workshop-greek-experience-under-ottoman-rule-athens>

Licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-No Derivative Works 3.0 United States License.

Students from all humanities disciplines and the social sciences are welcome to apply. All papers and discussions will be in English. Papers must not exceed 30 minutes in presentation.

Three nights of double occupancy accommodation (September 1-3, 2019) will be provided to all workshop participants. Participants will be responsible for their travel expenses to/from Athens.

Deadline: Applications are due on Monday, April 22, 2019.

Applicants should submit (by email, no fax or hard copy) the following to the organizing committee:

- Abstract (400 words maximum) of a paper to be presented at the workshop.
- Statement of motivation (200 words maximum) to participate in the workshop, reflecting on how the proposed paper relates to the dissertation- or research-in-progress, and situating the applicant's project within his/her academic field(s).
- Curriculum vitae, including the name and email address of one academic referee.

Send application materials to: hellenic@princeton.edu

Organizing Committee (Princeton University): Dimitri Gondicas (Hellenic Studies) and Molly Greene (History and Hellenic Studies)

Contact Info:

Director: Dimitri H. Gondicas

Contact Email:

hellenic@princeton.edu

URL:

<https://hellenic.princeton.edu/>