10th Annual African, African American, and Diaspora Studies
Interdisciplinary Conference
James Madison University, Feb 20-21, 2020

The African, African American, and Diaspora Studies program at James Madison University invites proposals for its annual interdisciplinary conference, to be held on the campus of JMU in Harrisonburg, Virginia on February 20-21, 2020. This year's theme is "Black Temporalities: Past, Present, and Future." Ranging across topics from oral history to Afrofuturism, the conference will bring together a group of scholars from a wide variety of overlapping and intersecting fields. We welcome proposals from scholars in all relevant disciplines at any point in their scholarly careers. Proposals for 20-minute presentations or 60-minute panels could address topics such as these:

Afrofuturism

Archaeology

Black Digital Humanities

Commemorative Practices

Continuity

Environmental Justice

History

Humanisms

Memory

Modernism

Modernity
