Call for Papers: 93rd Annual Meeting of the American Association for the History of Medicine

Discussion published by Jodi Koste on Wednesday, July 17, 2019
Type: Call for Papers
Date: May 7, 2020
Location: Michigan, United States
Subject Fields: History of Science, Medicine, and Technology, Health and Health Care, Public Health

The American Association for the History of Medicine (AAHM) invites abstracts for papers in any area of the history of health and healing for its 93rd annual meeting, to be held in Ann Arbor, Michigan, May 7-10, 2020. The AAHM welcomes papers on the histories of medicine, disease, and health broadly defined, including the history of medical ideas, practices, or institutions and the history of healing, illness, disease, or public health. We welcome proposals related to all eras and regions of the world. The Program Committee, led by co-chairs, Raúl Necochea López and Dominique Tobbell, particularly encourages the submission of papers and panels that increase the methodological, thematic, chronological and geographical diversity of the history of medicine and engage related fields (such as social medicine, literary studies, anthropology, or sociology).

For additional information and to submit an abstract go to http://www.histmed.org/cfp2020

URL:
http://www.histmed.org/cfp2020