

Spheres of Change and Challenge: The Local and the Global

Announcement published by Meg Corner on Wednesday, October 23, 2019

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

April 17, 2020 to April 18, 2020

Location:

Michigan, United States

Subject Fields:

American History / Studies, Asian History / Studies, Colonial and Post-Colonial History / Studies, World History / Studies, European History / Studies

The International Graduate Historical Studies Conference will host “Spheres of Change and Challenge: The Local and the Global” at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, April 17 - 18, 2020.

We invite graduate and advanced undergraduate students from across the social sciences and the humanities to submit proposals for papers or panels that adopt an interdisciplinary or transnational approach, but we are also seeking papers or panels that approach historical topics in more traditional ways. All submissions must be based on original research. In keeping with the theme of the conference, individual papers will be organized into individually chaired panels that cross spatial, temporal, and disciplinary boundaries. The IGHSC will present prizes for the best papers in several categories.

Send abstract (250-350 words) and a short curriculum vitae as an attachment to histconf@cmich.edu. Preference will be given to papers and panels received during the early submission period which ends January 5, 2020. The final deadline for abstracts is February 16, 2020. Full papers are due March 15, 2020.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Kenneth Pomeranz, University Professor of Modern Chinese History at the University of Chicago

Contact Info:

The International Graduate Historical Studies Conference Committee

Contact Email:

histconf@cmich.edu

URL:

<http://www.ighsc.info/>