

Endangered Urdu periodicals: preservation and access for vulnerable scholarly resources

Discussion published by Jody Butterworth on Thursday, January 29, 2015

The Endangered Archives Programme at the British Library is pleased to announce the addition of a new catalogue to its web pages. The catalogue gives details of material copied by the project EAP566: Endangered Urdu periodicals: preservation and access for vulnerable scholarly resources

This project was based at the Mushfiq Khwaja Library and Research Centre in Karachi, Pakistan and over 5,700 issues of various Urdu periodicals were digitised.

More information about the project can be found at:
http://eap.bl.uk/database/overview_project.a4d?projID=EAP566

The catalogue is available on the Endangered Archives Programme web site:
<http://eap.bl.uk/database/results.a4d?projID=EAP566>

For more information about the Endangered Archives Programme please visit

<http://eap.bl.uk> and our blog <http://britishlibrary.typepad.co.uk/endangeredarchives/>