

2020 Academic Conference in Austin, Texas: International Peace-Building

Announcement published by Darren Slade on Wednesday, March 4, 2020

Type:

Conference

Date:

January 1, 2020 to September 1, 2020

Location:

Texas, United States

Subject Fields:

Public Policy, Immigration & Migration History / Studies, Human Rights, Government and Public Service, Diplomacy and International Relations

2020 Academic Conference in Austin, Texas

International Peace-Building

About the Event

The Global Center for Religious Research (GCRR) will hold their 2020 academic conference at Huston-Tillotson University in Austin, Texas, September 25-27, 2020.

The GCRR Conference exists to promote the academic study of religion and the scholars conducting that research from around the world.

This three-day academic conference will feature scholarly presentations centered on the theme of international peace-building from professional researchers, educators, and students of religion.

Present & Publish Your Research

CALL FOR PAPERS!

~This year's conference theme is international peace-building.

~Present your research in front of different scholars from multiple fields of study.

~All paper presentations will then be published in a supplemental issue of SHERM academic journal.

Presenters will be able to feature and promote their own publications, and network with like-minded scholars.

For more details about the academic conference or to submit your paper proposal, visit gcurr.org/2020conference.

Due Date for Submission: June 1st, 2020

Contact Info:

Dr. Darren M. Slade, Conference President

Contact Email:

dslade@gcrr.org

URL:

<https://www.gcrr.org/2020conference>