TOC: Pacific Affairs, vol. 93, no. 3 (September 2020)

Discussion published by Daniel C. Kane on Monday, September 14, 2020

Announcing the publication of the latest issue of Pacific Affairs (Volume 93, Number 3, September 2020):

https://pacificaffairs.ubc.ca/issues/current-issue/

ARTICLES

“Reassessing Cambodia’s Patronage System(s) and the End of Competitive Authoritarianism: Electoral Clientelism in the Shadow of Coercion”

By Neil Loughlin (KITLV/Royal Netherlands Institute of Southeast Asian and Caribbean Studies)

“The Making of Post-Socialist Citizens in South Korea?: The Case of Border Crossers from North Korea”

By Jaeyoun Won (Yonsei University)

“Filial Nationalism in Global Competition: The 2001 Reform of Mandarin Textbooks”

By Manon Laurent (Université de Paris and Concordia University)

“Repeated Multiparty Elections in Cambodia: Intensifying Authoritarianism YetBenefiting the Masses”

By Sivhuoch Ou (University of Guelph)
PERSPECTIVES

“Migrants, Minorities, and Populism in Southeast Asia”

By Thomas Pepinsky (Cornell University)

BOOK REVIEWS

The issue also includes our generous amount of reviews of recent books and films on the Asia-Pacific region, all available full-text and free at our website above.