Syllabi and Teaching Resources

Page published by Charles V. Reed on Wednesday, December 18, 2013

Help us build our collection of empire-related syllabi! If you teach a course on empire, please consider sharing your syllabus with the H-Empire community. To contribute, click on "Upload a resource for the community" (--- over here). Please include a brief description of the course in the "Description" field.

If you prefer to submit your syllabus/i by email to editorial-empire@mail.h-net.msu.edu, please include your documents as attachments, a brief description of each syllabi, and the following statement: "I am the authorized copyright holder of this content and agree to its publication on H-Net according to H-Net's terms of use, including the Creative Commons license linked here."