

The Elephant Roundup \(Oct. 30 - Nov. 11, 2020\)

Discussion published by Yelena Kalinsky on Friday, November 13, 2020

An occasional newsletter from the editors of Feeding the Elephant: A Forum for Scholarly Communications.

---

Here's where we share links to news stories, updates, and announcements of interest to Feeding the Elephant readers. If you have a link you'd like us to consider in a future newsletter, please reply to this post, email us, or tag us on Twitter @HNetBookChannel.

Digital Preservation & Open Access

- "DOAJ to lead a collaboration to improve the preservation of open access journals," November 5, 2020, <https://blog.doaj.org/2020/11/05/doaj-to-lead-a-collaboration-to-improve-the-preservation-of-open-access-journals/>.
  - "DOAJ, the CLOCKSS Archive, Internet Archive, Keepers Registry/ISSN International Centre and Public Knowledge Project (PKP) have agreed to partner to provide an alternative pathway for the preservation of small-scale, APC-free, Open Access journals."

Digital Tools

- Smarthistory Commons Conversations, <https://smarthistory.org/commons-conversations/>
  - Free 30-minute webinars on topics like finding images, Photoshop basics, and how to edit audio. Upcoming webinars in November and December.

University Press Week

- UP Week 2020 Blog Tour, <https://upweek.up.hcommons.org/celebrate/up-week-2020/up-week-2020-blog-tour/>
  - Tons of intriguing stories around this year's theme of raising up voices and ideas. Follow the blog tour on Twitter @AUPresses using the hashtags #RaiseUP, #ReadUP, and #upweek
- Book Culture Blog conducted a series of conversations with university press publishers from Duke, SUNY, NYU, Cambridge, Fordham, Columbia, and the Association of University Presses:

<https://www.bookculture.com/blog>

---

