

Archive service for researchers struggling to get to the UK

Announcement published by Matthew Kidd on Monday, November 30, 2020

Type:

Online Digital Resources

Location:

United Kingdom

Subject Fields:

British History / Studies, Atlantic History / Studies, Early Modern History and Period Studies, European History / Studies, Medieval and Byzantine History / Studies

My name is Dr Matthew Kidd and I am the founder of Archive Mole, a UK-based archive retrieval service intended for MA/PhD students, researchers and lecturers who are having issues getting to the UK owing to Covid-related travel restrictions.

With a PhD in History and ten years of research experience, I offer to retrieve, photograph and send digital copies of materials to researchers from any archive, record office or library in the UK.

You can find out more about Archive Mole, including pricing information (£80 per half day, £50 for MA/PhD students) and testimonials, on our website or by following our Twitter account.

Contact Email:

info@archivemole.com

URL:

<http://www.archivemole.com>