

Call for Papers - Entremons Journal of World History

Discussion published by Oliver Laband on Wednesday, December 2, 2020

Dear tlamachtilin,

From the editorial board of Entremons: UPF Journal of World History we invite you to send us an original text for its possible inclusion in the next issue of our journal. Entremons: UPF Journal of World History is an annual publication sponsored by the University Pompeu Fabra and accepts both academic articles and recently published books' reviews about World History.

The texts that will be considered for publication should be sent to revista.entremons@upf.edu between January 1 and March 1, 2021. Articles can be written in English, Spanish, or Catalan, and they must include a summary and keywords both in the original language and in English. Rules for citations can be found at our website www.entremons.org

This is a wonderful opportunity to share your research within a flourishing academic field, so we encourage you to send us a text and be part of our project!

Sincerely yours,

The editorial board of Entremons: UPF Journal of World History.
