

Teaching the COVID-19 Archive

Discussion published by Marissa Rhodes on Monday, November 30, 2020

Type:

Workshop

Date:

November 17, 2020

Location:

United States

Subject Fields:

Teaching and Learning, Digital Humanities, Archival Science, History of Science, Medicine, and Technology, Library and Information Science

This workshop will include short presentations by a panel of experts and JOTPY partners, such as UTSA historian Jerry Gonzalez, UW Eau Claire Historian Cheryl Jimenez-Frei, JOTPY Intern Carolyn Evans, Rochester Institute of Technology Museum Studies Director Juilee Decker, ASU sustainability scholar Denise Bates, and Rev. Shonda Nicole Gladden whose work on underrepresented groups exposes silences in the archive and within the Covid-19 pandemic more generally. Discussion and Q&A will follow. This is a great opportunity for educational communities to discuss how Covid-related social issues are magnified and replicated by community collection and curation.

Register to obtain Zoom link: <https://tinyurl.com/yxz4cm97>

Contact Info:

Journal of the Plague Year: A Covid-19 Archive is the largest pandemic-related rapid-response archive in the world. Please check out our free virtual workshop series here:

<https://covid-19archive.org/s/archive/page/workshop-series>

Contact Email:

mcrhode1@asu.edu

URL:

<https://tinyurl.com/yxz4cm97>