

Challenging Norms & Changing Dynamics: A Virtual Student Conference

Announcement published by Peter Thorsheim on Friday, December 18, 2020

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

December 31, 2020

Location:

North Carolina, United States

Subject Fields:

African American History / Studies, Colonial and Post-Colonial History / Studies, Contemporary History, Graduate Studies, Social History / Studies

The Graduate History Association of the University of North Carolina at Charlotte invites History, Public History, Africana Studies, and Latin American Studies students to participate in the 33rd Annual Graduate History Forum. This event is an opportunity for students to gain experience presenting original research and network with other students and professional historians. This event will be held virtually on March 19-20, 2021. We welcome individual submissions from undergraduate and graduate students. Abstracts for individual proposals should be no more than 250 words and include a CV. Your abstract should include a brief description of the research you plan to present and your thesis statement. All proposals must pertain to either primary source research or historiography. Your CV should contain all higher education, communications and presentation experience, and any other relevant information. The submission deadline is December 31, 2020. To submit a proposal or for more information, please direct all emails to gha@uncc.edu.

Deadline: December 31, 2020

Where to Submit: gha@uncc.edu

Please Title your Email: GHA Forum Abstract- First & Last Name

Forum Dates: March 19-20, 2021

Contact Info:

Alexis Wetzell

President, Graduate History Association

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

gha@uncc.edu

Contact Email:

gha@uncc.edu

URL:

<https://history.uncc.edu/graduate-studies/graduate-history-association-gha>