

Subscriptions, Roku access available now for Heritage Broadcasting Service!

Announcement published by Rick Pettigrew on Thursday, February 4, 2021

Type:

Online Digital Resources

Subject Fields:

Anthropology, Archaeology, Communication, Digital Humanities

This is an important announcement about Heritage Broadcasting Service, our answer to Netflix. Heritage launched formally on January 1st!

Our dream has been realized, and you can be part of it. Heritage now features a growing list more than 100 outstanding films from many countries on familiar subjects, such as ancient Egypt, Stonehenge, Mesoamerica, and Peru, but also on diverse and rarer topics, ranging from prehistoric astronomers to the only Japanese bombing of the US mainland in World War II. Many more films are in the pipeline. Subscribers can watch all of these films on their smart TVs using Roku, as well as on their desktop computers, tablets and smartphones.

Please check out the Heritage site now at heritageTAC.org, where you can watch the trailers for these films, read their synopses, enjoy a 14-day free trial, and subscribe for one month, three months, six months, or a full year. Heritage gift cards can be purchased there as well.

Please share this announcement with others you know who might appreciate this new service. Many thanks and best wishes to you all!

Rick

Contact Info:

Richard M. Pettigrew, Ph.D., RPA

President and Executive Director

Archaeological Legacy Institute

<http://www.archaeologychannel.org>