

Reconciling Multiculturalism in Today's Canada: A National Symposium

Announcement published by Jenn Fedun on Friday, February 26, 2021

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

November 12, 2021 to November 14, 2021

Location:

Canada

Subject Fields:

Anthropology, Canadian History / Studies, Indigenous Studies, Political History / Studies, Social Sciences

The Canadian Institute for Ukrainian Studies, the Kule Institute for Advanced Studies, and l'Institut Marcelle et Louis Desrochers pour le patrimoine et les recherches transdisciplinaires en francophonies canadiennes et internationales (IMEDLA) announce

Reconciling Multiculturalism in Today's Canada

a national symposium

12-14 November, 2021 at the University of Alberta (Edmonton, Alberta)

To read the full Call for Papers and to submit your proposal, visit
<https://m50.artsrn.ualberta.ca/call-for-papers/>

2021 marks the fiftieth anniversary of Canada's policy of multiculturalism. Adopted in 1971 in response to growing pressure for more recognition from various Canadian constituencies, the policy of multiculturalism brought about significant and lasting changes in Canadian society. We believe it is time to engage in much-needed dialogue, and this semicentennial year offers us a meaningful opportunity to do so. In this call for papers, we are inviting contributions from wide ranging perspectives in history, Indigenous studies, anthropology, cultural studies, literary studies, education, political sciences, women and gender studies, and other related areas.

Proposals will be accepted until 22 April 2021, and successful participants will be contacted by 24 May 2021.

Contact Info:

M50 Organizing Committee: mc50@ualberta.ca

Jenn Fedun, Research Associate: jfedun@ualberta.ca

Contact Email:

mc50@ualberta.ca

URL:

<https://m50.artsrn.ualberta.ca>