

ZOOM TALK: Tradition! The Making of Fiddler on the Roof In Yiddish

Announcement published by Laura Morowitz on Friday, February 26, 2021

Type:

Event

Date:

March 1, 2021

Location:

New York, United States

Subject Fields:

Jewish History / Studies, Languages

Tradition! The Making of Fiddler on the Roof In Yiddish

March 1, 7 p.m. via Zoom

Join the conversation with Roy Gabay, producer of the Yiddish version of Sholem Aleichem's work, Fiddler on the Roof, along with two actors, Jennifer Babiak and WCT graduate, Jonathan Quigley. Babiak, who played Golde, the mother of five daughters, will sing "Do you love me?" We'll discuss how the Yiddish production came to be, the hurdles the cast had to overcome and the meaningful experiences for all involved.

Moderated by Todd Price, professor in the Arts Administration program at Wagner College.

This event is sponsored by the Wagner College Holocaust Center and Wagner College Theatre.

For more information, contact: holocaust.center@wagner.edu

Please register in advance:

<https://wagner.zoom.us/meeting/register/tjYsduqqpzloG9LqZT0P4r3ZB3ucGOjM6WsS>

Contact Email:

lmorowit@wagner.edu