

April Question of the Month

Discussion published by Jesse George-Nichol on Thursday, April 8, 2021

Welcome to our Question of the Month series, which we hope will launch robust discussions about research, pedagogy, and practice in the study of women and gender in the U.S. South. We also hope that subscribers from all backgrounds and at all stages of their careers will share ideas, insights, questions, and resources--just click the 'Post a Reply' button to join the conversation!

What book, historian, or historical actor inspired you to study women's history?

If you have any questions or comments about the series or have any suggestions for our next Question of the Month, please email H-SAWH editor Jesse George-Nichol (jesse.george.nichol@gmail.com). This series will also post to H-SAWH's Twitter feed at @HNetSAWH.