Deadline for abstracts: 31 July 2021

This digital seminar series seeks to showcase new and innovative research being undertaken on eighteenth- and nineteenth-century art and its histories. We invite contributions for papers investigating any aspect of the artistic, visual and material cultures of this period, produced across the globe. Sessions will be hosted via video conferencing software, and will take the form of a 40-minute seminar, with time following for questions. The series will take place in autumn.

We welcome proposals from PhD researchers and early career academics and museum professionals, particularly those from underrepresented groups.
